THE MILTONIAN TABLEAUX.-This Tableaux was exhibited last evening at the Academy Hail, and is, perhals, as faithful a representation of the great lows: po m of Milton as can be given on canvas. The scenes are judiciously chosen and the Tableaux unquestionably deserves high rank as a work of Scenic, art. Some of the views are very fine. Those of section II, representing the Creation, and section IV, representing the Garden of Eden, Adam and Eve, and the Fall and Exput ion, are the most pleasing as Colonel: coming within the limits of the natural ly to the poem itself, and it must be re- was burnt at the same time. membered that the Tableaux merely attempts to transfer to canvas the concep-Hell.
